What's Happening to Diet Coke®?

OH, NOTHING. AND EVERYTHING.

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Diet Coke — the same crisp, iconic taste launched in 1982 O.G. Diet Coke — isn't changing. (You don't mess with a good thing.)

 After 35 years, Diet Coke is relaunching in North America with a full brand restage, including a sleek new look, modern design, new campaign and the addition of four bold, new flavors to the Diet Coke family: Diet Coke Ginger Lime, Diet Coke Feisty Cherry, Diet Coke Twisted Mango and Diet Coke Zesty Blood Orange. The new packaging and flavors will hit store shelves beginning in mid-January. (Photo: Business Wire)

But the Diet Coke you think you know is history. We're relaunching with a bold new look, a fresh attitude, and four delicious new flavors, which join the iconic original.

Why?

Because every good icon knows that evolution is everything. That's why we're rolling out a modern design and adding new sleek cans – still 12 ounces with that old-school Diet Coke vibe and great taste.

Because after speaking to more than 10,000 people and spending years exploring all kinds of combinations like tropical, citrus and even botanical notes, we found magic. Introducing Diet Coke Ginger Lime, Diet Coke Feisty Cherry, Diet Coke Zesty Blood Orange and Diet Coke Twisted Mango into the Diet Coke family. Trust us when we say, you haven't tasted anything like this before.

And finally, we're switching things up because change is delicious and because we can.

So whether you're a longtime fan, or just the type who's down to try new things, give Diet Coke a taste and you'll see what we're talking about.
